ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

The origins of many customs of the academic world are to be traced to the Middle Ages, particularly the eleventh and twelfth centuries when the first European universities – Bologna, Paris and Oxford – were founded.

In their original organization, the universities were like medieval corporations or guilds. In fact the word “universitas” originally referred to any kind of corporation. The students at the universities were equated to guild apprentices, and so the completion of this apprenticeship was celebrated by a “commencement” marking the beginning of their careers.

In the twelfth century, everyone wore gowns. The social and economic status of an individual was shown by the extra features, such as fur trimming, on the gowns. Cloaks with hoods were worn over gowns for protection in bad weather. Degrees began to be awarded in the thirteenth century, and different styles of gowns and different colors came to represent the various degrees and disciplines.

Over the centuries the styles of dress changed, and by the seventeenth century, the wearing of gowns by men had virtually ceased. But the universities, particularly those in Britain, continued to be conservative and strict in the matter of academic customs and dress. At Oxford, for instance, students could be fined for cutting class or not taking notes, and candidates for master's degrees had to swear that they owned a gown and would always wear it at the proper times!

The first American universities were founded on English models. However, the wearing of academic dress was not universal and ceased during the Civil War. The custom was revived in the late nineteenth century, and in 1895 an academic costume code was adopted which, with modifications, is still used.

Most American universities have the standard black gown with the hood serving to distinguish the individual institutions. Some American and European universities have adopted or preserved more distinctive gowns. There are three styles of gowns, distinguished mainly by the sleeves: the bachelor's gown, with long, pointed sleeves; the master's, with a squared sleeve, cut so the forearm is free; the doctor's, with bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands.

The hood is the really distinguishing feature of modern gowns, indicating the degree (the width of the edging band), the discipline (the color of the band) and the college or university (the colors of the lining). Today's graduates have hoods edged in white (BA, M.A.L.S.), gold (B.S., B.L.S.) or drab (M.B.A.). Many faculty members will have blue edging indicating the Ph.D. degree. The faculty will be wearing hoods representing many distinguished institutions of higher education, e.g., navy blue and orange for the University of Virginia, orange and maroon for Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, cardinal and blue for the University of Pennsylvania.

FACULTY EMERITI

Faculty members who have served Mary Washington College for at least 15 years and who have attained the rank of Professor or Associate Professor are eligible upon retirement for consideration for emeritus status. This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed this year upon three distinguished members of the faculty.

JOSEPH BOZICEVIC

Professor of Modern Foreign Languages

Dr. Bozicevic came to Mary Washington College in 1961 as a member of the Department of Modern Foreign Languages where he has taught the Russian language, as well as the literatures and cultures of Eastern Europe. Very active professionally, Dr. Bozicevic has organized many symposia and seminars which have brought to campus a large number of international scholars including historians, geographers and physicists. As an active member of various professional societies, he has chaired sessions and presented papers on topics of Russian literature and Slavic studies at numerous conferences in the United States, as well as in the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and England. The recipient of many awards and grants over the years, Dr. Bozicevic has traveled extensively while studying and conducting research in various foreign countries.

NATHANIEL HAPGOOD BROWN

Professor of English

In his 30 years as a member of the Mary Washington College faculty, Dr. Brown has built a reputation as a nationally recognized scholar in the field of English Romantic literature. His book "Sexuality and Feminism in Shelley," on which he worked for over 15 years, was widely acclaimed by critics and has become essential to any serious study of the Romantics. He is frequently invited to judge new scholarly works and to contribute articles and review essays to leading scholarly journals. In addition to his extraordinary record of publication, Dr. Brown, throughout his career, has brought his scholarship into the classroom creating some of the most challenging courses in the curriculum. His expertise ranges from the ancient Greeks to the latest satirical novel. He pioneered feminist studies at the college with courses in women and literature, particularly 19th century literature.

BARBARA HOCHSTETLER MEYER

Professor of Art

Dr. Meyer has been a member of the faculty of Mary Washington College for 20 years. She received her doctorate from the Johns Hopkins University with a concentration in 13th to 16th century art in France and Italy. A scholar whose articles have been published internationally in the most prestigious journals in the field, her research topics have included the works of Leonardo da Vinci and portraiture of Louis XII of France. She has received several grants including a post-doctoral grant from the National Foundation for the Humanities and has traveled extensively abroad in her research efforts. As a member of both the undergraduate and graduate faculty at Mary Washington, she has taught courses in Medieval Art, Roman Art, and seminars on Michelangelo and Leonardo da Vinci. She has served as a member of the Graduate Council, numerous ad hoc and standing committees, and as chair of the Art Department.

ACADEMIC HONORS AND SPECIAL AWARDS

ACADEMIC DISTINCTION. General academic attainment is based solely on the student's academic average.

The level of attainment, based on the student earning at least 60 hours on which quality points may be computed, is as follows:

Cum Laude	3.25
Magna Cum Laude	3.50
Summa Cum Laude	3.75

Recognition of academic achievement applicable only to BLS students is as follows:

With Distinction for those students with a GPA of 3.3, and
With Highest Distinction for those students with a GPA of 3.75 or higher.

These students are listed on the program insert.

FINAL HONORS. Final Honors are awarded at Commencement to students who achieve a 3.75 grade-point average in their last 56 credits earned, at least 44 of which must be Mary Washington College graded credits. These students are recognized on the program insert.

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS. Students may earn honors in their major subjects. Each department establishes its own requirements for honors projects or theses. All departments require that a student intending to undertake an honors project have a specified minimum grade-point average in the major subject and a minimum grade-point average for all work taken at Mary Washington College. These students are also recognized on the program insert.

COLGATE W. DARDEN, JR. AWARD. This award was established in 1960 to honor Colgate W. Darden, Jr., president of the University of Virginia from 1947 until 1959. It consists of a medal designed by Gaetano Cecere, formerly of the Department of Art, and a cash sum. It is awarded to the senior having the highest academic average. To be eligible for the Darden Award, a student must have earned at least 94 hours on which quality points may be computed.

PHI BETA KAPPA. Phi Beta Kappa is a national honor society devoted to the recognition of excellence and the stimulation of achievement in the pursuit of liberal education. Started in 1776 at the College of William and Mary, the organization has since expanded to include chapters at 241 colleges and universities in the United States. The Mary Washington College chapter, Kappa of Virginia, was organized in 1971.

ALMA MATER

*All hail, dear Alma Mater,
We sing our praise to you.
High on Marye's Hilltop
You stand forever true;
Born in truth and honor
You ever more shall be,
The model of our future years
And all eternity.*

*Whene'er we have to leave you
We never will forget,
The lessons you have taught us,
And all the friends we've met;
And we your sons and daughters
Will hold your name on high,
So here's to Mary Washington;
Our love will never die.*
